Nidia Ortiz was born in the beautiful Caribbean land of the Dominican Republic, in the city of Santo Domingo.

She was born into a musical family. Her father used to play classical guitar music, folk-music and christian music too at church. At the age of seven, Nidia was singing with her family at church.. At the age of eight gave Nidia her first public performance and later in the teenage years she had her debut as a soloist with her family band. They played Christian music in and around the churches of her homeland, participating in small and large events like the Annual Christian Meeting at Santo Domingo Stadium in her hometown. She has been heard on some of the local and International radio stations and some TV stations as well.

She has been composing music and writing lyrics of her own since she was eight years old and was trained under the influences of several music styles including: Merengue (the folk music of her country), Salsa, but also Pop, Soul, Classic, Contemporary Christian and Gospel music (which she grew up on for a long time in church). Her musical focus is Latin. Other styles: Jazz, Soul, House and Lounge

Since she lives in Germany, she has been working together with different labels: Tyranno Lounge Records, Solardish Records (Zweiklang) Bevision (Rumba del Sol) and others. Some of their titles have appeared on many compilations worldwide. For example, on the prestigious compilations of Sony / BMG ("Pasion Caribeña") on Bar Lounge Classics - Bossa Nova Edition, or "Make me yours" .

Nidia loves not only to work as a professional studio recording vocalist on studio, but also to enthrall the audience with her performance on stage. She is still regarded as an "insiders's tip". For instance, no other than the great jazz pianist Vladislav Sendecski (Main pianist of the German Big Band NDR Orchestra) discovered her great talent and arranged her for a concert at the international "Fifth Golf Jazz Festival Kuwait 2010, among other exceptional musicians.

Nidia Ortiz has also worked with some world class musicians like Lulo Reinhardt (the great-nephew of jazz legend Django Reinhardt), Don Hart (an award-winning, Grammy nominated, multifaceted musician from Nashville), the band TWANX (one of the best Jazz/World local bands in Giessen, Germany) among others. Currently she is working with the "Nidia Ortiz Quintett". This is a new creative Latin-Jazz band founded in 2016 by extraordinary musicians around Hessen, Germany. The band delights its fans by playing a variety of styles ranging from jazz and latin to world music in a dynamic, modern and exceptional way.

.Nidia's live performances are full of charm. Her clear and exceptional vocal range transport the listener to an unknown, imaginary world: a place of reflection, relaxation and pleasure. When you hear Nidia sing, you're on a warm beach, surrounded by nothing but smooth white sands as the ocean runs up on the shoreline at sunset.
